

Call for Papers – CPDWL Open Session (WLIC 2025) by Helen Chan, IFLA CPDWL Section Chair

March 1, 2025

Title:

Reimagine Continuing Professional Development for SustAInable Futures

Overview:

The IFLA Continuing Professional Development and Workplace Learning (CPDWL) Section, in collaboration with the Six IFLA's Regional Divisions (Asia-Oceania, Europe, Latin America and the Caribbean, Middle East and North Africa, North America, Sub-Saharan Africa), invites submissions for its exciting session at WLIC 2025.

This session will explore the transformative potential of Artificial Intelligence (AI) in advancing continuing professional development (CPD) within the library and information sector. With the increasing integration of AI in library operations and professional development, this session will focus on how these emerging technologies can foster sustainability, inclusivity, and innovation.

As libraries and library professionals navigate the rapidly evolving landscape of AI-driven tools and practices, CPD initiatives play a critical role in equipping them with the knowledge and skills to lead meaningful change. This session aligns with the WLIC 2025 theme, Uniting Knowledge – Building the Future, by addressing the intersection of AI, sustainability, and professional growth.

Call for Submissions:

We welcome submissions that explore challenges, opportunities, and innovative strategies addressing one or more of the following themes:

- Harnessing AI for Green Libraries:
  - Exploring how AI can optimize library operations (e.g., energy use, resource management) to reduce environmental footprints.
  - Training library professionals to adopt AI tools for sustainability planning.
- AI-Powered Learning Ecosystems:
  - Utilizing AI-based platforms for personalized and continuous learning in the library and information sector.
  - Case studies on AI-driven virtual mentorship and skill development for sustainable library practices.
- AI Ethics and the Librarian's Role in Building Sustainable Knowledge Societies:

- Addressing ethical considerations of AI in libraries and its impact on sustainable development.
- CPD programs to equip librarians with ethical AI literacy.
- Bridging the Digital Divide:
  - Using AI to democratize professional development opportunities for librarians in underserved regions.
  - Strategies to ensure equitable access to AI-driven CPD resources.
- AI and the Future of Work in Libraries:
  - Preparing library professionals for the changing nature of work with AI integration.
  - CPD initiatives to foster adaptability, creativity, and collaboration in AI-enhanced workflows.
- Reskilling for Resilience:
  - Building resilience in library professionals to navigate AI-driven transformations.
  - Training librarians to engage in AI-facilitated partnerships.
- AI Innovations for Knowledge Equity:
  - Examining AI tools that promote knowledge equity and sustainable access to information.
  - Training librarians to use AI to support open access, digital preservation, and inclusive education.

Formats:

We encourage submissions that focus on a variety of presentation formats to engage and inspire the audience, particularly for the Regular Presentations of the Open Session:
